DIANA BURNWOOD
Good evening, 47.

A faint, simple interface resolves into view, like a blank projector.

DIANA BURNWOOD
Your destination today is Sithong
Technologies Stadium in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Drone footage of Sithong Stadium.

SUPER: LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

DIANA BURNWOOD
According to our intelligence,
American Football Association owner Robert Murkovich will be in attendance for the game today.

The footage dissolves to an image of Robert Murkovich, a well-groomed and fit man in his mid-to-late 50's. He wears a clean grey suit and aviator glasses, his rough salt-and-pepper hair standing messily all over his head.

SUPER: ROBERT MURKOVICH

DIANA BURNWOOD
Murkovich started in government contracts, supplying equipment to the United States and allied militaries.

The image dissolves to various documents and contracts, naming Murkovich, various international military agencies, and listing assorted technology supplies.

DIANA BURNWOOD
Those contracts expiring, however,
didn't end Murkovich's dealings,
and he's made a fortune selling advanced military tech on the black market. Last month, a protest in Laos was violently broken up by air strikes,

An explosion dissolves the documents and reveals aerial footage of drone strikes in a tiny village in Laos. As the footage shows villagers fleeing for their lives,

DIANA BURNWOOD
but the Lao state media calls it an 'accident' and a 'military exercise gone wrong.'

SUPER: ACCIDENT

A Polaroid of a generic anonymous silhouette appears on screen.

DIANA BURNWOOD
Our client, a wealthy supporter of Laos's left-wing political party, lost three family members in those strikes, and has paid a hefty sum to see Murkovich suffer from a terrible accident this weekend.

Murkovich appears on screen again, laughing while surrounded by a group of the AFA's football team owners.

SUPER: TARGET IDENTIFIED

SUPER: ROBERT MURKOVICH

Murkovich's name turns from white to a bright red before fading off screen.

The footage changes to the stadium again, this time showing POV footage of being in the crowd during a football game. A shot of the Owner's Box from the stands' perspective slides into a splitscreen from the right. The screen slowly turns a deep red.

DIANA BURNWOOD
One target, a highly populated location; sounds like exactly your kind of challenge, 47.

As the red fades to black,
